Innovation you can build on.

What have we got that you need...?

ePIN delivers greater control and visibility to the projects of some of the largest companies in the world, enabling their teams to reduce risk and save cost. Our unique web based system for the control of both global and local developments, programs and projects, provides integrated management of documents, risk, issues, change, tasks, cost and process. Complimented by extensive real time analysis and reporting capabilities with the option of integrating data from other systems.

ePIN's world class systems are delivered as a fully managed service, enabling rapid deployment of both off-the-shelf and highly tailored solutions to meet your exact needs. We brand the system to suit your company, client or project. We can also host your data locally to comply with government and company requirements.

ePIN has over 12 years of experience working on tens of thousands of construction and real estate related projects around the world, helping billions of dollars worth of projects to be delivered with greater certainty, on time and to budget. Our niche expertise and experience ensures that we can always deliver exactly what you need both now and in the future.

Better control for your programs and projects.

"ePIN brings clarity to what happens and when. 5-7% of total project cost was saved as a direct result. "

Chris News - Project Director

"ePIN has a unique offering in a market where so often everyone looks the same, but the reality is very different."

Tim Young - Partner

"Using ePIN saved Nissan in excess of $20m dollars just within the first two years of the program alone"

Martyn Fisher - Director

"ePIN enables me to keep far better informed with less effort. ePIN puts me in the driving seat." Richard Webb, Vice President

Project Management

The world's largest companies trust ePIN systems to help them achieve success.

"ePIN specialises in helping to bring under control those projects which at first sight seem to have impossible requirements with impossible timescales. It is the up front input of expertise that makes their deployments a success, combined with their unique combination of system functions, flexibility and level of service."

Eric Butterworth - VP and Exec Director of Project Management Hill International

Ultimate visibility on your projects provides rapid identification and efficient management of risk.

ePIN can help teams achieve direct savings via reductions in cost and time by:

- reduced time spent locating and managing information
- ease of accessibility, allowing most effective use of program team's time
- providing real time information and reporting to project stakeholders
- tracking program processes, deliverables and performance monitoring
- reduced process cycle times
- reduced cost of handling claims, queries and disputes and achieve these indirect cost savings:

- avoidance of mistakes, wastage, claims and disputes through certainty and clarity of information
- reduction in risk by active risk management
- identification and dealing with problems earlier due to real time visibility of key processes and deliverables
- gain more time for optimizing / value engineering design

ePIN uniquely provides its system as a fully managed service, allowing your existing valuable IT expertise and resource to be preserved. You get the benefit of a single point of responsibility, combined with maximizing the value of your investment by having configuration and administration performed by people that understand both the system and its real purpose.

Extensive integration and reporting capabilities give valuable functionality now, but also ensure flexibility to meet your future requirements. Close contact with our users has always guided the design of the system resulting in simple, efficient and powerful tools.

Our systems are hosted on robust world class infrastructure managed by our dedicated specialist partner Rackspace. But we can also offer special deployments on local infrastructure to meet corporate or legislative requirements.

We understand that security, stability and robustness are always priorities for you. Both the hosting and software are carefully designed to address these areas, and our enviable 12 year track record of outstanding reliability, service and innovation speaks for itself.

The easiest software system deployment you'll ever have...

...because we do it all for you.

ePIN integrates the tools your team needs,
into one easy to use system.
